Priestley's Black Dress Goods

We now have on display thousands of yards of the celebrated Priestley's Black Dress Goods.

We have said the secret of the favor the Priestley's goods have gained is because they wear well. Now, we give three reasons why they wear well:

1. The excellence of the materials used in their make.

2. The great care exercised in their manufacture.

3. The high standard of dyes employed.

Be sure that the name

is on the selvage of your black goods, and you will have a satisfactory gown.

The standard of excellence of the black dress goods from the looms of B. Priestley & Co., have been maintained by the manufacturers for over half a century, with the most liberal guarantee of "satisfactory wear" ever present and going with them. See our new line.

The New Ordinance Provides For a City License.

REGULATION OF PAWNBROKERS

Amusements and Auctioneers Come Under the Head. While Patent Medicine Men Are Provided for.

Councilmen Timmons and Stewart, members of ordinance committee, met at city hall Wednesday evening with Former Solicitor Voorhees and Solicitor McDowell for the purpose of preparing an ordinance governing non-residents who do business in the city. They had invited business men to meet with them, but only Sam Gamble was present. The ordinance is to be incorporated in the codified ordinances of the city, and was prepared by Attorney Voorhees who is doing that work.

The ordinance is made up of ten typewritten pages, and covers the ground well. It will be presented at the next meeting of council, and will receive prompt attention. The ordinance may be changed in some sections, but it will likely be passed as read.

The first section deals with traveling amusements. Theatrical performances, circuses, etc., must be licensed before the doors open. For a theatrical performance where the admission will exceed 25 cents, the license is to cost $3; 50 cents, $5; 75 cents, $10; $1, $15. Circuses and animal shows must day not less than $25 nor more than $50 for each performance. All entertainments by local talent, or for the benefit of schools, churches, etc., are exempt. Art exhibits do not come within the limits of the ordinance.

Any officer is to be allowed to enter the place where such performance is in progress for the purpose of examining the license or preserving order. The penalty for violating the ordinance is a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $15.

The owner of an opera house or other place of amusement may take out a license at $50 a year, thus exempting traveling combinations from the special license herein provided.

Peddlers and hawkers are defined as such persons as travel from place to place, sell, barter or exchange on the streets, alleys, etc. They are to pay not less than $5 and not more than $25 a day.

Patent medicine men who sell their wares on the streets or alleys of the city must take out a license paying not less than $5 nor more than $25 a day. The mayor may revoke the license where the person is carrying on different or additional traffic than authorized by the license.

Transient dealers are defined as persons doing business for the temporary sale of goods. They must pay not less than $10 nor more than $100 a day.

Auctioneers are licensed by paying $200 a year. If they desire to take license by the day it will not be less than $10 nor more than $50 a day.

Those who solicit pictures for enlargement are made a scource of profit to the city by the ordinance. If they have not lived in the city a year they must pay $50 a year, but it is probable the license fee may be changed to a given amount for each day.

Pawnbrokers are given special attention. They must pay not less than $10 nor more than $200 a year. The pawnbroker must keep a record of the names and articles and report the same to the mayor each day before noon. He must not make a loan to minors, known thieves or intoxicated person. The penalty for breaking this section is a fine of from $10 to $50.

Persons not residing in the city who operate carts, drays, carriages etc., on the streets are licensed at $5 a day. They shall not charge more than 25 cents for carrying a passenger with ordinary baggage to any part of the city. The penalty is from $2 to $10.

PRAISED THE SCHOOLS

Professor Butler, of University of Chicago, Gives His Opinion.

GOOD WORK CAN BE DONE

Under the Present Superintendent, Principal and System They Can Equal Any in the State.

Professor Nathaniel Butler, of the department of education of the Chicago university, has a good opinion of the Coshocton schools.

Professor Butler was in Coshocton Wednesday as the guest of Doctor Piatt, and visited the schools. In fact he was here for the purpose of ascertaining the standard the high school has attained, examining the course and determining whether graduates of these schools should be admitted without examination to the great university with which he is connected. He left in the evening for Zanesville where he goes on the same mission.

"Colleges and universities are attempting to find whether it is not better to do away with entrance examinations and have the student to work quietly and comfortably for admission on certificate," said Professor Butler to THE AGE. "Some authorities think there is danger in admission on certificate, but we have devised a system that reduces danger to a minimum.

"We have two relations to college preparatory schools, one of affiliation and the other of cooperation. By affiliation we mean the relation of the university to the private schools whose trustees are willing the university should take control of the educational policy of the school. And farther than that, for the appointments in the faculty are made and the course of study defined. On the other hand the members of the faculty of these schools have certain privileges at the university —the taking of certain studies without charge, etc., while the principal is a member of the university council. We are also affiliated with colleges in that way, and students who do not care to undergo the rigors of winter on the lake shore can, for instance, go to the John B. Stetson university in Florida and will be given credit for work done there.

"Now as to cooperation. Manifestly the public schools can never put themselves under the care of the university. The law will not permit it. But the high schools may invite the university to inspect them and see if the standard is equal to the standard of preparatory work for the university. When the inspection is made and the university is satisfied, then the university may accept students from these high schools without examination. In that case university and high school are said to be not in affiliation but in cooperation. To make sure the system is carefully administered the university sends out two members of the faculty to make the inspection.

"The result of my day spent in the high school here is a very clear conviction that the high school is doing strong work, and with your present liberal board of education and the progressive and competent superintendent and principal the school should be able to graduate boys and girls as well prepared to enter the colleges and universities as any high school in the state.

"I have been in Cleveland, Lima, Findlay, Sandusky, Akron, and Canton, and am going to Zanesville, Marietta and Columbus. The central high schools of Cleveland, Columbus and Dayton have been in cooperation with us for some time.

"I am of the impression that prospective college students in Ohio do not look as strongly toward the University of Chicago as toward the educational institutions of your own state, the University of Michigan and Cornell. Nevertheless I hope it will change somewhat. Our President Harper comes from this very region. It is his bailiwick. He is a graduate of Muskingum college."

Professor Butler expressed himself as greatly pleased with Coshocton, its location and evidences of enterprise and thrift.

Arguments Completed and Judge Maxwell Charged The Jury.

The case of the Williams & Herdman company against Henderson went to the jury in common pleas court this morning after it had been argued by Attorneys Voorhees and Steel for the plaintiff, and J. C. Adams for the defendant, and Judge Maxwell had delivered his charge.

The suit was to recover $199 claimed by the firm on an account. H. W. Henderson conducted a store in Canal Lewisville, and purchased merchandise from the firm when it was McCoy, Williams & Herdman. When McCoy retired, Henderson claimed, he gave two checks, one for $100 and the other for $103, which he understood were to be applied to his account with the new concern. The firm claimed the money went to pay an old bill.

The jury returned a verdict of $66.95 for the plaintiff.

The commission created two years ago to investigate and report upon the legal rates of fees for county officers has reported. The members of the commission are the attorney general, the secretary of state and the state auditor.

A DOG'S LONG JOURNEY

Fleet Came From Seattle, Wash., In a Basket.

SEEMED TO ENJOY THE TRIP

A Tag Explained His Position and Stated His Wants—He is a Prize Winner.

A distinguished traveler arrived in Coshocton Wednesday night. Although a dog he made the trip from Seattle, Washington, without apparent discomfort. His name is Fleet and he was consigned to J. S. Norman.

Some time ago Mr. Norman agreed with R. N. Palmer, who resides in Seattle, for an exchange of dogs, the Coshocton man owning a fine animal. The question of the dogs enduring the long trip was not discussed, but the condition in which Fleet arrived in Coshocton caused favorable comment.

This may be due to the following card on the basket:

"I am on a 2000 mile journey. Please water and feed me, one biscuit a day. I am not cross and like company and a little exercise.

"Fleet."

Fleet is a handsome fellow with a long list of prizes taken at western bench shows, to his credit. He is valued at $150.

Mr. Norman shipped his dog to Seattle today. The dog is very intelligent and showed very plainly by his actions that he did not want to leave his master.

RAILROAD BRIDGES ARE THREATENED

Track of the Port Deposit Road Piled With Ice In Exposed Places—Situation at Pittsburg Causes Uneasiness and Coal Fleets Will Attempt to Get Out Ahead of the Ice.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 27—Residents along the river front at Columbia are in a state of terror. The worst flood in recent years is being experienced. The ice on the Susquehanna broke between Columbia and Marietta and passed down stream until it reached the old dam just below Columbia, where a jam formed. By 7:30 o'clock the water had entered the boiler room of the electric light plant, drowning the fires and leaving the town in darkness. The tracks of the Columbia and Port Deposit railroad at some places are submerged and piled with ice. The large sand dredging trestle has been washed away and water surrounds the city pumping station. If the rise continues at the present rate the lace mills will be damaged and the rolling mills of the Susquehanna Iron company put out of operation. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage.

The Conestoga is pouring a great volume of water into the river at Safe Harbor. This stream is higher than it has been for 35 years. It tore away part of the large dam at Slack Water and damaged the electric light plant at that place, which supplies Lancaster. Water was pouring over the great steel bridge of the Pennsylvania Railroad company which spans the Susquehanna from Columbia to Wrightsville. Ice has jammed against the bridge extending out from the Columbia shore to one-fourth of its length, and is piled about eight feet above its floor.

Situation at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—Indications are that the big ice gorge in the Allegheny river may let go at any moment. The first sign of a general break-up in the gorge occurred just below Kittanning. The ice cracked in a number of places at this point, making cracks that extended from bank to bank. The breaking of the ice made a noise that resembled thunder and could be heard for miles. Between 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. the water rose about three feet, caused by the melting ice and snow on the hillsides. The Kiskiminetas river is still frozen solid, though a great volume of water is flowing out. The Monongahela Consolidated Coal and Coke company has made preparation to get ahead of the ice and expects to start south five towboats with 52 coal boats, 13 barges, 7 barges of rails and cotton ties and 1,500,000 bushels of coal.

Brewers' Strike.

Cincinnati, Feb. 27.—A conference was held between committees of the Central Labor council of this city and the Brewers' Exchange of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport regarding the strike of brewery workmen in these three cities. No result was reached. The committee of the Central Labor council heard a full statement of the differences from the brewers. After the conference was over it was announced that no action was taken and no date set for another conference. The brewers stated that they were still employing nonunion men to fill the places of the strikers, and expected to be running soon to their full capacity.

American-German League.

Berlin, Feb. 27. — Prominent merchants, sociologists and educators of Germany will be among the members of the proposed American-German league for the preservation and promotion of mutual understanding and friendly relations between Germany and the United States, for the formation of which steps have already been taken. The principal mission of the association will be to foster the expansion of commercial relations between Germany and the United States and thus to counteract the existing misunderstandings between the two countries.

Both Jailed.

Crockett, Tex., Feb. 27.—While an officer was serving papers on Mary Williams a negro woman, she shot and killed Jay Porter, a young white man who accompanied the officer. The woman then fled. [illegible] was captured by the sheriff. Fearing trouble the officer started to town by a roundabout way and as he passed Porter's Springs he was met by Karl Porter, the brother of the dead man who shot and probably mortally wounded the woman. Both the woman and Porter are in jail.

Centenary of Victor Hugo.

Paris, Feb. 27.—The series of festivities to celebrate the centenary of the birth of Victor Hugo, which will last until Sunday next, opened with a grand ceremony within the Pantheon, under the auspices of the government. President Loubet, M. Waldeck Rousseau, the premier, and the other members of the cabinet and others were present.

To Set Aside Historic Site.

Washington, Feb. 27. — The house military committee gave a hearing to a Virginia delegation interested in having the historic site at Yorktown, Va., where Lord Cornwallis surrendered to Washington, set aside as a national park.

COMING TO A FOCUS.

Final Disposition to Be Made Soon of Everett-Moore Properties.

Cleveland, Feb. 27.—Final disposition of the Everett-Moore telephone properties may be looked for within a day or two, according to authentic information. Two parties are said to be after the entire plant, one said to represent Bell telephone people, the other anti-Bell. The plan of the latter is said to be if it secures control, to finance and carry out and even extend the original Everett-Moore ideas in regard to the Federal Telephone company's plant.

The bankers' committee ordered the granting of an option to Chicago and Toledo capitalists on the properties of the Toledo Light and Railway company property, approximating $3,500,000. A price was agreed upon, but the terms of the option were not made public. If the price is agreed to the Toledo properties will be sold.

An option has been asked for and will soon be given on the properties of the Northern Ohio Traction company. A sale of the Federal Telephone properties would involve $7,000,000 or $8,000,000. Their disposal is at the consent of the stockholders, and an entire sale is thought more probable than a piecemeal.

Head-On Collision.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 27.—Two fast Pittsburg and Western freight trains collided half a mile east of Girard, O., resulting in the death of two men, the fatal injury of two and less serious injuries to two others. Stalk of Chicago Junction, O.; S. A. Cory of Cortland, O.

Victim of Melancholia.

Springfield, O., Feb. 27.—John Fogarty, formerly a member of board of education, was found drowned in Buck creek, northeast of town. He had been missing two days and relatives had been searching for him. Several months ago he was injured in a trolley car collision and would have been a cripple for life. This fact and the death of his wife not long ago preyed on his mind, and it is believed that he was a victim of melancholia.

Lentz-Tompkins Contest.

Washington, Feb. 27. — Arguments in the Lentz-Tompkins contested election case for the seat of the Columbus (O.) district were continued before house election committee No. 2, former Attorney General Monnett of Ohio concluding for Mr. Lentz, and Mr. Tompkins replying with a general and detailed denial of charges of irregularity at the polls.

Seen In Every Walk of Life in Coshocton. The Easily Excited With Nerves On Edge.

No class of people living have looked more in vain for relief than those who are everlastingly at the mercy of highly sensitive nerves. The columns of this paper are almost daily referring to some one in Coshocton who has found the key to quiet their nerves. It's the only medicine that can produce home testimony, because it is the only preparation that will overcome this trouble.

Mrs. E. Waight, of 129 North Walnut, Coshocton, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a splendid nerve tonic. I was nervous, restless, easily excited and tired, slept poorly and needed just such a nerve tonic badly. The medicine acted with me rapidly and easily, making the nerves steady, sleep natural and strength and energy good. This medicine is the best to me I ever took, and I am pleased to say so, and glad Mr. C. E. Anderson, druggist, called my attention to it."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

MILDEWED TREATIES

Are No Bar to Americanism of Collector Ivey.

SENDS A BRITISH OFFICIAL FLYING.

Calls the Attention of the Secretary of the Treasury to the Fact That Foreign Poachers Are Allowed to Commit Acts For Which Americans Would Be Punished.

Washington, Feb 27.—Unofficial information was received some time ago by secretary of the treasury to the effect that J. W. Ivey, collector of customs at Sitka, had instructed his deputy at Unalaska not to permit Canadian vessels presumably about to engage in pelagic sealing to obtain supplies at that port. The collector was directed to send a statement of the facts to the department, and was informed that if such orders had been given they must be rescinded. In reply the department received a telegram from Ivey, saying:

"My instructions were not against vessels engaged in alleged legal seal fishing, but against Canadian vessels actually engaged in pelagic sealing, which is illegal and criminal when committed within the marine jurisdiction of the United States. If there is an ancient treaty between the United States and Great Britain by which her subjects can commit depredations, destroying American property and depleting our revenue of tens of thousands of dollars annually, while our own citizens are denied these privileges, the sooner such treaty is abrogated the better.

"Your solicitude regarding international complications with Great Britain need cause you no uneasiness, as the poaching season is not yet opened. Your new collector will arrive in time to enforce your orders. My Americanism will not allow me to rescind an order which gives British subjects privileges within our marine jurisdiction which are denied our own people."

"There is another matter that may attract your attention. I have recently issued orders to the deputy at Skagway, a copy of which has been sent you, which has put the Canadian officer located there out of business and sent him to his own territory. You are aware of the fact that this officer became so offensive that he interfered with American officers in the discharge of their official duties, opened United States customs mail, dominated over the railway officials, discriminated in the order of shipment in favor of Canadian merchandise against that shipped from Seattle, established a Canadian quarantine at Skagway, collected money and performed other acts of British sovereignty in a port of the United States, such as hoisting with bravado the cross of St. George from the flagstaff of his custom house. I have sent the concern, bag, baggage, flag and other paraphernalia, flying out of the country. You may fear the shadow of international complications and rescind this order, but a Reed, an Olney or a Blaine would not."

Banquet to Prince Henry.

New York, Feb. 27.—Prince Henry of Prussia dined with 1,000 of the men who make American newspapers. He was the special guest of Herman Ridder, proprietor of the New York Staats Zeitung, who gathered at this table a majority of the leading figures in American journalism. They came from the four quarters of the country and made the most noteworthy gathering of their profession ever assembled in the United States. There was a felicitous exchange of greetings between Prince Henry and the men who spoke for the journalistic craft, and the affair claims rank as one of the notable incidents of the American tour of the German prince.

Horrible Accident.

Hammond, Ind., Feb. 27.—Frank Spencer, a foreman employed by the Grassel Chemical company of this place, fell into a giant vat of nitric acid. None of his fellow workmen were near the scene of the accident, and Spencer swam around in the liquid for several moments before his cries were heard. When assistance came and he was dragged from the vat his clothes fell from him with pieces of flesh. He suffered intense agony, and though there is not a place where the acid had not eaten into his flesh, he is still alive.

FOREST FRINGED RAILWAY.

Illinois Central Will Plant Catalpa Trees For Nine Hundred Miles.

Within five or six years there will probably be several rows of catalpa trees stretching from Chicago to New Orleans, a distance of about 900 miles, says a dispatch from Chicago to the Boston Herald. They are to be planted by the Illinois Central railroad to provide the company with lumber for cross ties. Over 200,000 of the trees will be planted.

At first it was thought to set aside one or two tracks on which to plant the trees, but it has now been decided to string the forest over the entire system, placing hundreds of trees on every spot where there is any considerable room. From Chicago to New Orleans the trees will be planted in profusion. They will not be set out after any pattern or design, but the seeds will be dropped into the ground around stations, along the right of way in the country, around warehouses and every place where they may grow and at the same time add to the surroundings with their shade. The contract for planting this immense longitudinal forest has been let. Agents are now in the field to find places where the larger numbers of trees are to be planted.

During the last two or three years much difficulty has been experienced by railroad officers in obtaining the proper timber for ties, and the great amount used for this purpose has drawn heavily on the lumber markets of the country for the right kinds of wood.

RAILROADS STAND PAT.

Refuse to Answer Questions of Interstate Commerce Commission.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—The management of western roads and the interstate commerce commission have locked horns, and it is expected that a legal contest will follow The difficulty arises from a refusal by the traffic managers of the western roads to furnish the commission with data relative to rebates which were paid during 1901.

Concerted action has been taken in the matter, and is the result of several meetings among the executive officials in which the question was discussed at length. It is understood all have agreed to stand together, and that the refusal to give the information sought was made after legal advice had been taken.

CREAM OF GERMAN NAVY.

Crew of Kaiser's Yacht Hohenzollern Composed of Picked Men.

On the Hohenzollern, which is to be the home of Prince Henry in this country, is a crew comprising the cream of the German navy, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Every man on the emperor's yacht is a picked man, from the galley boy up.

There are only 300 of these men, and a better trained and better disciplined crew is not afloat. Every man is a typical German. All wear either a little pointed beard or go clean shaved. There is no mustache in the German navy without a beard to accompany it. The discipline on the yacht is perfect. The routine is that of a man-of-war, in which class the Hohenzollern belongs.

The emperor's own cooks are on board the yacht. There are five of these. Four arrived on the Graf Waldersee recently and will accompany Prince Henry on his tour. The entire kitchen force is the same that cooks the emperor's meals when he is on board the yacht. The kitchen is kept as neat and clean as a parlor and is guarded as sacredly as the emperor's own quarters.

The yacht is fitted with two rapid fire rifles well up toward the bow. These are fixed behind screens and are used for saluting visiting officials. Two immense searchlights are located on the bow of the yacht. In appearance the yacht is more solid and less luxurious than the yachts of some American millionaires. It is finished in splendid style, but the solidity necessary to carry out the idea of a warship is there.

The most marked courtesy and discipline prevail among the officers of the yacht. When the officers are leaving the yacht in citizen's dress they always raise their silk hats, while the officers remaining on the yacht salute in return When the admiral is going ashore, the officer of the deck stands at salute until he reaches the pier, when the shrill pipe of the boatswain announces that the commandant is on shore.

THE ARK OF NOAH.

An Ancient Tablet That Gives an Exact Description of It.

A remarkable discovery has been made in the British museum during the slow course of deciphering the cuneiform inscriptions on earthern tablets found in the ruins of the library of Asurbanipal the Magnificent, king of Assyria from 668 to 626 before the day of Christ.

The new find is that of a tablet that tells in details of Noah's ark, giving exact dimensions and enumerating the animals that were carried on it to save them from the deluge

The ancient record, predating even the ancient Asurbanipal's reign by no one knows how many centuries, treats the matter not as legend, but as history.

According to the dimensions given in the record, the hull of the ark was almost exactly twice as long and more than ten times as wide as the Oceanic or the Celtic, the two biggest ships in the world today. Either of the two big ships when in drydock towers eighty feet from keel to lower deck. The deckhouse alone of the ark, according to the tablets, was more than three times as high as that.

So great was this deckhouse that neither the Oceanic nor Celtic could accommodate it on their hulls, for it alone was 400 feet longer than either of these ships are over all.

The description of the ark as given in the tablets depicts it as having been a huge houseboat in form. Thus the present and common conception of what its appearance was is identical with that conveyed by the old record.

According to the figures given in the tablet, the ark would have drawn so much water that she never could enter New York harbor, even in the highest tide, when there are thirty-six feet of water clear. This fact serves to give a graphic conception of what the extent of the deluge must have been.

The tablet, after giving the dimensions of the ark, goes on to describe the arrangement of the deckhouse. There was ample room on each side of the deckhouse for moving about, a space 17.20 feet wide having been left on each side of the craft between the deckhouse and the gunwale of the ark. At each end was a great deck, where the inmates rested during the day. One may suppose these two decks were similar in purpose, if not in form, to the promenade decks on the modern liners.

The work of deciphering the inscription has not been completed, and only a partial list of the animals that were carried has been made out as yet. The inscription, as far as read, enumerates in the order given dromedaries, camels, oxen, mules, asses, sheep, goats, antelopes and rabbits as the mammals that were carried. Doves head the list of birds, then follow swallows and ravens.

All this agrees with the account of the building and voyage of the ark as given in the Bible except the order in which the birds are named.—Washington Post

LOCAL OPTION BILL

Goes Through the House by a Large Majority.

ITS FRIENDS ARE NOT JUBILANT.

Admit That Amendments Made to the Measure at the Last Moment Nullify It in Certain Localities—Joint Session to Be Held on the Subject of Canal Abandonment.

Columbus, O., Feb. 27.—A bill providing heavy penalties for using the American flag for advertising and other unpatriotic purposes was introduced by Senator Hosea.

The senate adopted Mr. Hosea's joint resolution providing for a joint session of the two houses on March 17 to hear hear arguments pro and con on the proposition to abandon the canals of the state.

Bills introduced: Mr. Yates, to reimburse companies which are incorporated for the purpose of apprehending horse thieves and other petty thieves for expenses incurred in such apprehensions in an amount not exceeding $75; Mr. Warner, to repeal the habitual criminal act; Mr. Pomerene, extending the life of the Cleveland city hall commission.

Bills passed: Mr. Archer, amending the game law so as to cure certain defects and strengthen the law relating to prosecutions for violation of the fish laws; Mr. Harrison, providing that when corporations dissolve notice of the dissolution must be filed with the secretary of state; Mr. Chamberlain, extending to all cities the provisions of the law giving workhouse trustees the right to parole prisoners; Mr. Hosea, requiring that all parties to a suit, those who are made parties defendant after the filing of the suit, as well as those named in the original petition, shall be indexed; Mr. Wirt, providing that suits may be brought against corporations in any county in which they own property or owe debts.

Local Option Bill Passed.

Columbus, O., Feb. 27.—By a large majority the house passed the Beal bill, but its friends are not claiming an overwhelming victory. In fact they are admitting that they were outgeneraled and practically defeated, and that the opposition snatched a victory from the flame just at a time when they were at the mercy of the enemy.

Soon after the vote was announced on the measure Representative Garrison of Brown county, who practically managed the fight, was met and congratulated by one of his co-workers. "I guess I don't deserve any congratulations, after all," remarked Mr. Garrison, "for they have beat us at the last minute."

The two members then began to go over the battle as the smoke cleared away, and the first thing which met their eyes was the Meisel amendment, which provides a fine for the first offense of selling liquor on Sunday, and for the second offense a maximum fine of $200 and imprisonment or both, but there is no minimum There is nothing to prevent a liberal police judge from fining an offending saloonist 2 cents and remitting the costs if he chooses to do so.

Another point which the friends of the Beal bill are regretting is that they conceded the change in the required percentage for a petition from 25 to 40 per cent of the total number of votes in any municipality. This, the friends of the measure themselves say, precludes the possibility of getting a local option election in any of the large cities. Of course in the smaller towns and villages the local option law is strengthened, and they are claiming that much of the victory.

There will be an effort in a quiet way to remedy the bill before it is passed in the senate, but there will be no risks made which might result in the defeat of the bill altogether. The general opinion which is expressed by members of both branches of the legislature is that the bill will pass in the senate practically as it was in the house.

The much-talked-of and widely-discussed Willis tax bill is half a law, as it was passed by the house after comparatively little discussion. It was generally expected that there would be large and long bursts of oratory on this bill, but the Republicans must have said about all they had to say in the numerous caucuses they held to discuss the bill, as little that was new was said in behalf of the bill on the floor of the house

Crew Afflicted With Scurvy.

Port Angeles, Wash., Feb. 27.—The French bark Los Adelphes, 162 days from Madagascar, bound for Portland, Or., against which there is reinsurance of 20 per cent arrived here with almost every man of the crew down with scurvy. For the last 37 days they had been subsisting on but one biscuit per day to each man, and were for some time without fresh water except rainwater. The cook, F. L. Fletcher, died of ague and exposure, and was buried at sea.

Should Be More Teachers.

Washington, Feb. 27 — Governor Taft continued his statement before the insular committee of the house. He said there should be 1,000 more American teachers in the island. In explaining the question of the friar lands, Governor Taft said it would be desirable for congress to guarantee the bonds to be issued for the purchase of these lands, as it would secure a low rate of interest. The hearing will be continued.

HOURIET'S SUCCESS.

[illegible] The Office of President of The Pathfinders.

Local Pathfinders rejoice in the [illegible] that C. F. Houriet has been made president of the supreme lodge to fill the place made vacant by the death of N. R. Steiner. The position was tendered Mr. Houriet by the supreme lodge although a number of leading members of the order were candidates.

Mr. Houriet organized the Coshocton branch of the order, and is well known in this city. He is an enthusiastic, hard working official and had already gained a reputation as one of the most successful organizers in the service of the order. He deserves all the success that can come to him since by his own efforts he has made his way to the splendid position he now occupies. Mr. Houriet has his headquarters at Akron.

SNOW WAS DEEP

But It Is Melting in the North and a Flood Is Not Feared.

The country drained by the Walhonding and Tuscarawas rivers was covered with heavy snow, but it is melting and there is little danger of a flood.

Had the snow gone off with a rain the rivers would doubtless have risen rapidly, but the warm weather is causing the snow to melt slowly and the streams seem capable of carrying off the water without damage.

STRIKING BACK.

Roosevelt Requested to Withdraw Acceptance of Invitation.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 27.—In deference to telegrams from subscribers to a fund for the purchase of a sword for Micah Jenkins of the First United States cavalry, Lieutenant Governor James H. Tillman of South Carolina sent the following telegram to President Roosevelt:

"A short while ago I had the honor to address your excellency a letter requesting that on the occasion of your visit to Charlestown you present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins of the First United States Volunteer cavalry, of whose gallant services you spoke so highly, your words being engraved upon the scabbard. You accepted the invitation, for which we thank you. I am now requested by contributors to the sword fund to ask that you withdraw said acceptance.

"JAMES H. TILLMAN,

"Late Colonel of the First South Carolina Volunteer Infantry and Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina."

In explaining the sending of the telegram Lieutenant Governor Tillman said: "It is with much regret that I was directed, or rather required, to send the telegram I did, especially in view of the fact that I am so closely related to one who, but a few days ago, was subjected to an affront which was seemingly, or at least the people who contributed to the purchase of the sword think, unwarranted."

McKinley Memorial.

Washington, Feb. 27.—There was a meeting of the trustees of the McKinley National Memorial association, which is engaged in raising a fund for the construction of a memorial to the late president at Canton, O. Treasurer Herrick and Secretary Ritchie made reports, and reports were received from state and territorial auxiliaries. While reports from some sections were not encouraging the trustees on the whole are much pleased with the results thus far obtained in effort to raise $500,000 the amount needed. This figure, it is expected, comprehends the amount of an endowment fund, the proceeds for the safeguarding and preservation of the memorial.
